RETAILERS VOTE FOR BIG EVENT

Special Prices Will Be Made During Period

PRIZES TO BE AWARDED

Profit-Sharing Coupons To Be Distributed

In one of the biggest money-saving sales in Southeast Texas' mercantile history, Port Arthur's "10 Trades Days" will make their bow April 16 to 26 inclusive, when $1.00 will be given in profit-sharing awards at the close of the big sale.

Members of the Port Arthur Retail Merchants' association last night made the decision to inaugurate this gigantic sales event for a ten-day period in exploiting Port Arthur's merchandise to the public of this part of the state.

Special Prices Offered

Specials, honest-to-goodness specials, will be asked of the local merchants by the committee in charge of the sale, each merchant to put one article on sale the opening day at rock-bottom price so as to enable the housewives of the city to make the rounds of the stores for the entire first at a great saving.

In connection with the efforts to sell Port Arthur merchandise to Port Arthur, local merchants will put on a profit-sharing campaign during which time partial returns will be made for the money spent with them.

Articles Offered

Among the awards to be distributed to persons participating in the "10 Trades Days" will be an automobile, two $100, two $50, six $25 and 10 $10 cash awards.

General discussion of this plan was the result last night of the special meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association, the plan being advanced by Art Burge, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping.

In conducting the special Sales and Trades project the Chamber of Commerce will co-operate with the members of the Retail Merchants' Association in bringing it to a successful close.

At the request of President Denny of the Merchants, Howard Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce last night made a short talk to those present.

"I'm not offering this in the spirit of criticism of former administrations of the Chamber of Commerce, but it has seemed to me that these two organizations might be brought into closer working harmony than they" (Turn to Page 2, Column 2.)

CITY PROPERTY SOLD FOR TAXES

Nine Places Not Bid On Taken Over By City

Five pieces of city property were sold under the hammer at the city hall today for delinquent taxes. Tax Collector G. K. Lohm acting as auctioneer.

Nine pieces of property failed to bring bids. These will be taken over by the city, it was announced. Less than a dozen attended the sale, several of these being merely lookers.

Parcels sold at the auction for taxes included: Lot 16, block 40, bid in for $76.32 taxes by J. E. Beckstrand; part of lots 1 and 2, block 94, bid in for $14.19 taxes by H. F. Banker; lot 11, block 116, bid in for $25.92 taxes by H. F. Banker; lot 8, block 218, taxes $42.50, bid in for $105 by Deputy Sheriff John M. Foster; lot 10, block 246, taxes $10.88, bid in for $25 by S. O. Latimer.

Properties failing to receive bids included lot 7, block 49, $60.85; lot 18, block 163, $201.71; lot 24, block 108, $238.69; lot 3, block 437, $100.02; lot 7, block 169, $105.43; lots 10 and 11, block 179, $682.27; lot 2, block 214, $54.07; lot 11, block 238, $75.83; lot 9, block 239, $83.88.

By law property owners must pay penalties and costs of sale, an added amount of 25 per cent if paid within three months. If redeemed between three and six months, it reaches 50 per cent. If between six months and a year, 75 per cent. After that time it reaches 100 per cent.

If the property is unredeemed by the owner for a period of two years from date of sale for taxes it reverts to the purchaser according to provisions in the charter and ordinances, when an action of the court final deed is issued.

Fourteen Men Believed Still Alive In Sunken Japanese Submarine as Rescuers Work

TOKIO, March 20.—Fourteen men are believed still living in the engine room of the Japanese submarine number forty which was sunk yesterday in a collision near Nagasaki.

Crews sent to salvage the vessel reported that at 7:40 p. m. yesterday they were amazed to hear shouts coming from the interior of the sunken hulk.

"Banzai emperor" was the cry which came to the ears of the salvage crew—the Japanese equivalent of "long live the king."

A second shout from the interior of the sunken ship came almost immediately.

"Hurry, hurry," was the translation of the cry, "it is difficult to breathe."

Since then there has been no word reported from the imprisoned men.

Pipes feeding air and milk are being driven into the submarine.

Will Hays Named In Teapot

SINCLAIR PAID G. O. P. DEFICIT

Part of $1,000,000 Fund Donated, Claim

WAHLBERG ON STAND Original Witness in Scandal Recalled

By PAUL E. MALLON United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 20.—A story that Sinclair oil money paid off part of a $1,000,000 deficit of the republican party, resulting from the 1920 campaign, will be sifted by the senate oil committee as it continues its investigation of alleged mixing of oil and politics.

Will H. Hays, former head of the republican national committee and now "Czar" of the movies will face the committee Saturday to tell whether he got 75,000 shares of oil stock or any liberty bonds, from Harry Sinclair, to help wipe out the 1920 party deficit. Hays was subpoenaed after the story was told to the committee in private.

G. D. Wahlberg, a former Sinclair employee, one of those whose testimony first opened the secrets of the oil scandal, was to go the stand today to tell what he knows about this newest sensation.

Wahlberg in his previous testimony mentioned turning over some stocks or bonds to a "Mr. Hayes" who was not then identified.

Committee investigators at the time thought Wahlberg referred to an employee in Sinclair's New York office, where Wahlberg was private secretary. Subsequent developments have led to the opinion that Wahlberg might have referred to Will Hays.

Churchill Beaten

Opponent of Labor Regime Loses Close Contest

By United Press LONDON, March 20.—The Right Hon. Winston Churchill, former liberal and holder of several cabinet posts in the Lloyd George government, was defeated in a by-election in the Westminster Abbey District by Otto Nicholson, conservative. The result was announced today.

Churchill had broken away from his party, dissatisfied with the attitude of Asquith towards labor and as an "independent anti-socialist" because of his extreme attitude of hostility towards the labor government. Churchill's candidacy aroused great interest. The election was close.

Expect to Leave Vancouver For Seattle Today

VANCOUVER, Wash., March 20.—Major F. L. Martin and his party of "round the world" aviators planned to make a new start for Seattle here this morning.

They were forced by storms to return to Vancouver late yesterday, after having headed northward. The new start will be made when weather permits.

Lieutenant Erik Nelson, flying the fourth "round the world" plane, was expected to leave Eugene, Oregon, for Vancouver and Seattle this morning. He arrived at Eugene yesterday afternoon.

TRANSFER SAVES CITY FROM 'RED'

Payroll For First Half Of March Is Met

BORROW AVERTED

But Last Half Of Month's Expense Yet Remains

Transfer of the contingent fund of $10,107.05 for emergency purposes Friday by city council today saved the city from going in the "red" at the bank $8,124.27.

To put it differently, had the emergency fund not been transferred to make it available for immediate expenditure, the city would have been unable to meet the payroll for the first half of March without borrowing at the bank.

Payroll and disbursements aggregating $9,642.75 were made by the city today. The city still has to meet the payroll for the last half of March to complete the fiscal year ending March 31.

The amounts paid today were distributed as follows: General fund, $6,630.15; water and sewer, $2,034.80; water extension No. 5, $523.40; street improvement No. 5, $332.40. Total $9,642.75.

Vouchers held by the city since February 29 for future release, when the money is available, aggregates $11,700.50.

The amount of cash on hand in the general fund for current expenses, including the transfer of the contingent fund of $10,107.05 and March collections up to and including Wednesday, March 19, was $29,269.28, against which there was $20,736.47 outstanding vouchers including the $11,700.50 not released for payment.

From this must be deducted the item of $6,630.15, from the general fund, paid out in meeting the payroll today.

BUILDING CODE AMENDMENTS UP

Ordinances on First Reading Before Dads

Two ordinances, contemplating amending sub-sections of sections 9, 10 and 12 of the city building code passed first reading before city council today. Two more readings are necessary before the measures will be adopted.

The first ordinance stipulates the materials which legally may be used for construction and repairs within districts A and B. The second delineates the boundaries of the two districts.

Both are designed to clarify passages in the existing ordinance in which there has been some dispute and to outline sharply boundaries in which future construction under terms of the two will be permitted.

DAKOTA RESULT REAL SENSATION

Strength of Coolidge Is Called Remarkable

LA FOLLETTE DANGEROUS

Johnson Gets Disappointment in Radical State

By LAWRENCE MARTIN (Copyright, 1924, by United Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 20.—North Dakota and Georgia have set off the first political bombshell of the 1924 presidential campaign, and with mixed sensations the manager of various candidates today appraised the results.

Result a Sensation

North Dakota's presidential primary was little short of a political sensation because:

First—Of the showing of President Coolidge in what his managers called "hostile territory."

Second—The destruction by La Follette of Hiram Johnson's hopes.

McAdoo's Victory

In Georgia, McAdoo's substantial victory over Underwood seemed to show:

First—That the oil scandal has not hurt McAdoo.

Second—That Senator Reed of Missouri isn't getting far in his attempt to eliminate McAdoo.

North Dakota returns today indicated La Follette running third by a few votes. The final figures promise nothing but disappointment for Johnson's followers, because it shows that he can expect no help from the La Follette forces anywhere. La Follette was not on the ballot; his name was put there by means of "stickers."

Johnson was on the ballot and made a spirited campaign. North Dakota has simply emphasized a fact already generally recognized—that La Follette is the power Coolidge has to reckon with.

McAdoo's victory, while it does not eliminate Underwood in any sense, does appear to dispose of Reed, Reed wasn't on the ballot, having decided after a preliminary campaign in the state that he stood no chance. McAdoo's forces proved too strong for him. In fact it was believed here that McAdoo's effort in the state insured McAdoo's victory there, and that was borne out by the result.

Underwood's defeat was a heavy blow, coming so close to him, but he and his supporters have plenty of fight left in them. The Georgia result simply confirms McAdoo's recognized position as the leading democratic candidate at the moment.

BOND PRINTING BIDS RECEIVED

City Will Open Offers At Friday Meeting

Bids for printing the city's $1,030,000 improvement bond issue voted last fall for twelve items of improvement will be opened by the city commissioners Friday.

This measure precedes advertisement for bids on sale of the bonds themselves.

Advertisement for bids on the sale of the bonds will be made in time to be opened and let, if an offer is acceptable, about April 15. Mayor J. P. Logan said today.

The bond issue was approved by Attorney General Keeling recently. The city then submitted it to a firm of bond attorneys for their approval and this is expected to be received, he said, within a few days.

Approximately $975,000 of the issue will be offered in $500 denominations, the lowest denomination included in the balance being $100 each.

PITTSBURG SALOONS DEFY POLICE ORDERS

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 20.—Pittsburgh's 600 saloons today defy the abatement orders of state police and opened for business as usual.

The saloonkeepers intimated they will "fight to a finish" the attempt of Governor Pinchot to drive bar rooms from the state. They claim that saloons became extinct when the 18th amendment was made to the constitution and that they are now "arill proprietors."

Y.M.B.I. BACKING BASEBALL GAME

Committees Canvass City For St. Joe-Elks Game

Directors of the Young Men's Business League have voted to devote their best efforts toward putting over a record attendance at the ball games to be played between the local Elks team and the St. Joe ball team at Cosmopolitan park Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock and Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in an effort to make good the guarantee of $2,500 in gate receipts for the St. Joe team during its training season here.

Expect 5,000 to Attend

To this end 4,000 tickets at 50 cents for adults and 1,000 tickets at 25 cents for school boys and girls have been printed for advance sale in the city. These tickets are now in the hands of A. C. Reiche at the First National bank for distribution to those who wish to or will offer their services in the effort to sell these tickets.

For a systematic distribution of tickets among all the people for these games to be played on Saturday and Sunday, a number of committees have been appointed. Perry Pace heads a committee to work the business section of the city north of Waco avenue. Ed Lohmann leads a committee to work the business section of the city between Waco avenue and Fort Worth avenue. Mr. Wheeler of the Merchants National bank leads a committee to work the business section of the city between Fort Worth avenue and Houston avenue.

Other Committees

Messrs. Kavanagh and Fontana have committees working that section of the city beyond Houston avenue. Mr. LaGrone heads a committee to work the Texas Company's main plant. Messrs. Henderson and Goren are in charge of a committee to work the Gulf Refining company's plant, while Mr. Fowler will arrange to take care of the Texas Company Island and A. A. Gunter has charge of a committee which will offer tickets for sale at the local banks during the pay-days this week. George Carter has charge of ticket sales in Nederland and Port Neches.

Headed For Pen

"Yes he said something about telling McLean that he was headed for the Atlanta pen."

"And he got in touch with the attorney general?"

"Yes, but the attorney general referred him to Burns."

"You remember what Burns said?"

"Yes, Muma said that Burns remarked 'everybody seems to know what is going on around here but me.'"

"Did you resign from the department of justice?"

"Yes, but I was invited to resign by Burns. But I was not surprised. I always was known as a democrat in my district and when Harding was elected I expected to get the rump."

He also decided that E. W. Cole, elected as representative-at-large from Texas on the basis of the 1920 census was not entitled to his seat.

RICKARD TELLS OF FILM PACT

Fined Once, He Went After His Money

HARDING SAW PICTURES

Fired Justice Agent Tells Of Occurrence

By FRAZER EDWARDS United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Tex Rickard, New York fight promoter, today told the senate "Daugherty committed that he 'went out to get his money back' on the Dempsey-Carpentier fight films by showing them wherever possible, though he knew it was a violation of the law."

Rickard made this decision, he said, after he had been fined $1,000 for showing the pictures in New York to disabled soldiers. It was this $1,000 he wanted to get back.

Promised New Law

He told the committee that Jap Muma promised to get a law passed in Washington making it legal to show fight film anywhere, but that Muma never said he had influence in the capital which would make it safe to exhibit the films in defiance of the law.

He said that after they "got by" so easily in New York, he concluded they could do the same elsewhere. But, he added, he was "bunked" and the entire profits of the picture exhibitions totalled only $70,000.

Agent Dares Intrigue

Thomas A. Spellacy, former department of justice agent, mentioned by G. O. Harding, as participating in the conference with Jap Muma regarding the film deal, was then called to the stand.

Spellacy read a statement stating that he read Holdridge's testimony of the alleged conversations with Jap Muma at the Hotel Arizona, New York, adding "this statement is absolutely correct and I will swear to it."

Spellacy said he first talked with Muma concerning the motion picture business in New York with Holdridge.

"Did he speak of showing the fight picture at McLean's home?"

"Yes."

"And he told you about Mr. Daugherty, President Harding and Secretary Hughes being there?"

"Yes."

"What did he say about showing the picture?"

"He said Daugherty told him it was against the law to transport the pictures, but that the law was made for a nigger."

"Daugherty said that?"

"That's what Muma said."

Spellacy said Muma told him that Daugherty had referred him to Union and taken Holdridge and himself to see Union.

"Did Muma tell you that the attorney general had said to him, 'if you put this over you ought to get a good rap, about fifty per cent'?" asked Wheeler.

Muma said Daugherty had advised him "he ought to get some money if he got in on the picture deal."

"Did you ever hear that Union and Daugherty were associate counsel representing the packers?"

"I understood they were associated in the packers' case."

"Did Muma tell you about conversations he had with McLean and Burns?"

He said something about telling McLean that he was headed for the Atlanta pen.

And he got in touch with the attorney general?

STEAMER PUT UNDER BOND

Alleged Irregularity in Loading Is Charged

Night loading of rice contained in bags manufactured from imported materials without a permit from U. S. customs inspectors here resulted in an order to hold the steamer Colorado Springs until the alleged irregularity in loading could be investigated.

Sails for Galveston
This is the word issued today by A. A. Gunter, assistant collector of customs for the Sabine district. The Colorado Springs, scheduled to get away from Port Arthur Wednesday, called today under $250,000 bond for Galveston, the bond having been arranged through communication between Sabine district customs officers and Washington, Gunter said.

Application of the owners of the rice cargo for the customs refund of 90 per cent of the duty paid on the raw product imported for the manufacture of the jute bags into which the rice was loaded aboard the Colorado Springs carried with it the provision that the loading, stowage, or holdage should not be done unless a permit was first secured from U. S. customs officials, Gunter said.

Federal Allegations

Customs officials allege that 1,363 bags of domestic rice in bags made from imported jute material were taken aboard the Colorado Springs at Beaumont on March 15 without the customs permit, as required for cases where shippers had filed notice of intent to export with the benefit of the draw back, or refund of 90 per cent of the duty paid on the raw material imported for manufacturing the jute bags, Gunter said.

Beard Equivalent to the value of the jute bags was arranged for the Colorado Springs by officials at Washington, and was allowed the vessel today, according to instructions in a telegram to the Sabine district customs headquarters in Port Arthur. Only rice loaded aboard the Colorado Springs at night was considered an irregularity in the loading operations, the assistant collector of customs declared.

have been heretofore," Smith stated. "You gentlemen are all in the line of the Chamber of Commerce and have contributed liberally both in time and money to run the various projects of the organization across. In return for this I want you to feel at liberty to call on the officials or employees of the Chamber of Commerce at any time you think they can be of assistance to you."

Donny thanked Smith for the pledge of co-operation and asked Burge to outline the plan for the 10 Trades Days.

Burge outlined the plan which has been adopted in other cities of this state in bringing the merchandise of the town in front of the people of the respective trade territories.

Coupons With Each Sale

During the special sales of April 16 to 20, merchants of the city will give profit sharing coupons with every cash purchase of a dollar or for every dollar paid on account during those ten days. On the final day the awards will be given on the tickets issued during the trades days.

Under the plan advocated at the meeting today of the executive committee every dollar spent through cash purchases of cash on account will entitle the purchaser to one of the tickets. Awards of the automobile and cash prizes aggregate nearly $1,000.

For the benefit of the people living outside the city and desiring to take advantage of the bargains to be offered, round trip ticket fares will be refunded to all persons living within 25 miles of Port Arthur for purchases of $15 or more. It will be necessary for these persons to ask for and save their receipts from the Interurban and bus lines entering the city.

Special advertising will be carried on throughout the 10 Trades Days including window cards, announcing the various bargains to be offered, automobile windshield stickers and the regular advertising channels will be put up the effects of the committee in charge of the event.

The executive committee appointed today by President Donny of the Merchants' Association included George J. Huff, W. T. Hooker, F. E. Gifford, M. J. Black and Earl A. Mullen. This committee will look after the appointment of other committees to serve during the 10 Trades Days.

GOVERNMENT RENEWS LEASE AT KERRVILLE

AUSTIN, March 20.—The state board of control was notified today by General Frank T. Hines, director of the war veterans' bureau, Washington, that the government is renewing for another year the contract for the use of the American Legion memorial hospital at Kerrville.

Gets Support Here Too

The many people here who have gotten such wonderful results from Black and White Ointment for pimples, blotches, "breaking out," seborrhea, rash, itching, etc., are proving their gratitude by giving it the most whole-hearted and enthusiastic word-of-mouth publicity ever known. The fact that Black and White Ointment is already selling at the phenomenal and unheard of rate of nearly two million packages a year, proves beyond doubt that it is the most valuable skin medicine ever known. It is the only skin medicine that has been able to get relief from their skin troubles by using anything else.

Black and White Ointment is the only skin medicine in liberal size containers. The 3-ounce jar contains three times as much as the 1-ounce jar.

NEW SYSTEM FOR RECORDS URGED

County Auditor Inspects Houston Methods

Special to The News.
BEAUMONT, Texas, March 20.—A new system, whereby all records in various county offices will check together will probably be inaugurated here, according to present plans of County Auditor J. D. Darden.

Auditor Darden returned from Houston Thursday morning, where he inspected the records kept at the Harris county court house and stated that he was in favor of establishing the same system here. The method of keeping records in Harris county is now considered to be the best in the state and Auditor Darden is anxious that local county records be changed so that all offices may function on a more efficient basis.

It has been generally conceded that there is room for improvement on the manner of keeping records of fees of office in all Jefferson county offices. The county did not have an auditor until R. J. Barry, who preceded the present Auditor Darden. As an employee expressed the situation here this morning, "Each office is a king to his own domain and the affairs of his office do not conform with any other to which he is associated."

The new system would affect the county clerk's office, the district clerk, also the county assessor and tax collector. Provision would be made for registration of all fees of office with the auditor so that he could check them. Mr. Darden stated that it would probably take a year or more to have the system installed in this county, but that the benefits would be well worth while.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR CRAWFORD HELD

Special to The News.
BEAUMONT, Texas, March 20.—Special memorial services were held by the Beaumont Rotary club here Wednesday for the late Walter Crawford, a past president of the club. Judge Leon Sanford, associated with Mr. Crawford for a number of years, made the principal address during the meeting. The services were in charge of J. C. Bracken.

DICKASON WILL HEARING ENDS

Special to The News.
BEAUMONT, Texas, March 20.—Hearing in the U. S. District court here from Port Arthur was concluded here Wednesday afternoon. The case has been on trial here since Tuesday, during which time a score or more of witnesses testified as to the mental and physical condition of the deceased before his death. Three interests are involved in a claim on the estate.

Two wills were made by the deceased. The first was not mentioned in either will and is attempting to prove that he was mentally sane to make a will and are claiming the property, amounting to about $5,000. Judge B. Johnson, before whom the hearing was held took the case under advisement and will announce his decision Saturday morning.

TWO PORT ARTHUR MEN TO FACE TRIAL

BEAUMONT, Texas, March 20.—Hearing in the case of Lee Doherty and Howard Crump, both of Port Arthur will be held in 60th district court here on April 24 and 25. The two were indicted by the grand jury following an alleged holdup on the West Port Arthur road some time ago. Bond was set at $7,500 and since neither were able to make it, they have been held at the county jail since the indictment was returned.

BEAUMONT FREE FROM CRIME WAVE

BEAUMONT, Texas, March 20.—"The Beaumont police department up to now has had the lightest year in their history," according to W. S. Nichols, police clerk. There have been but 462 cases brought to the attention of the department so far this year, a number below the average. Noteworthy too, is the fact that in the majority of the cases the same offenders appear time after time, some having paid as many as ten fines for the same offense since the beginning of the year. There are 44 police officers in Beaumont and for the past week, no more than five or six cases a night were docketed, the majority of these being investigation, when the offenders are released the next morning.

COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER GETS MARRIAGE LICENSE

BEAUMONT, Texas, March 20.—A marriage license was issued here Wednesday afternoon to Dr. J. D. Hines, county health officer and Mrs. Jane Holland. Dr. Hines is well known for his work in rural schools all over the county and for more than a year now has served as full time health officer.

LIQUOR CASES HEARD IN 58TH COURT

BEAUMONT, Texas, March 20.—Hearing in the case of Eddie Garvin, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor was started Thursday morning in 58th district court. Four liquor cases were disposed of by Judge O'Brien here Wednesday. Following hearing in the cases of Harry Olsen and Sam Bartolo, both of whom were charged with possession of liquor, it was held against Olsen and Bartolo was arrested on a charge of selling liquor. Both pleaded not guilty.

Loose Cannon, charged with transportation of liquor was given a five year sentence in the state prison. He pleaded guilty. The other conviction was in the case of Ernest Ellis, given a year sentence in the penitentiary for selling liquor.

DEPUTIES SUMMONING WITNESSES AT NIGHT

BEAUMONT, Texas, March 20.—Deputy sheriffs are working at night summoning jurors for service, according to Tom Garner. There are 1,450 men to be summoned for jury service during April and the first week in May. The number is unusually large and in addition to this, officers are further handicapped by having to be in court, Judge O'Brien is hearing liquor cases and deputy

CHARGES WIFE IS 'MAN' OF HOUSE

'Ousted and Unseated' He Seeks Divorce

Special to The News.
BEAUMONT, Texas, March 20.—Alleging that his wife has become the "man" in the house and "has ousted and unseated plaintiff," a man filed a suit for divorce in 58th district court here Wednesday.

According to the petition, the couple have lived together for more than 25 years, and lately have not been able to get along. Judge McDowell in 60th district court here Thursday morning granted an injunction, restraining the defendant from disposing of any of the community property the couple have accumulated since their marriage, pending the divorce hearing.

Local Rotarian

Leading District

Recognition of the Port Arthur Rotary club for two 100 per cent attendances at luncheons in February, a record putting the local club at the head of the 13th Rotary district club in Class C, was read to the club here today by Rollin Drake, president, in a communication from district officers.

The attendance of the Port Arthur club also puts it in the lead of Beaumont and Orange, considering for the highest attendance percentage. Drake told club members. For the month of February the Port Arthur club's attendance percentage was 99.4, against 94.72 for Beaumont, he said.

CHICKEN JAILER HAS TABLE TURNED

BEAUMONT, Texas, March 20.—When local citizens call the police department and ask that some neighbor be made to keep up his chickens, Charlie McAllister generally goes out and sees that they follow the orders of the department. Clucking running at large is a violation of the Beaumont city ordinance and with the coming of spring and the subsequent planting of gardens the department receives many requests to make people keep their chickens up. The table were turned on Detective McAllister here Thursday morning, however, when some neighbor called the police station and asked that McAllister be made to keep his own chickens in his yard, which he promptly promised to do.

MISS BARNES EXPLAINS SCHOOL ART EXHIBIT

The art exhibition planned to open in DeQueen school next Wednesday afternoon for three days was explained to Port Arthur Rotarians today by Miss Thelma Barnes, of the school faculty, who is arranging for the exhibition here. About 300 pictures will be on display, and proceeds from the admission fees will be used to purchase pictures for the school buildings, she said.

Sailors Protect U. S. Citizens in Honduras

Citizens in Honduras

WASHINGTON, March 20.—A relief party of nine officers and 167 sailors from the United States cruiser Milwaukee arrived at Tegucigalpa, Honduras at noon yesterday, according to a cablegram from American Ambassador Morales to the state department.

The landing party was dispatched after the American legation was fired on during revolutionary disturbances.

NEW DEAN ACT IS CHALLENGED

Test Case Appealed To Higher Court

Special to The News.

AUSTIN, March 20.—Constitutionality of the act of the 57th legislature amending the Dean prohibition law so as to provide that the purchase of liquor is not an acceptance, and therefore can result in prosecution, is attacked in the cases of C. O. Walker, from Falls, and Joe Sprague, which have been submitted in the court of criminal appeals.

For the first time question has been raised as to whether or not indictments drawn under the act should negative the exceptions, that is, it is not unlawful to manufacture, sell or possess liquor for medicinal, mechanical, scientific or sacramental purposes. Contention is made that the legislature under the provisions of the constitution cannot relieve the state of the necessity of negating the exceptions in a separate paragraph in a law which was enacted to carry out the provisions of a constitutional amendment.

The stampede alarm proved to have been a collection of large canvas suspended by a rope and pulley over some concrete flooring. When this was dropped, there was excitement for something stampeding.

There are also ducks, rabbits, dogs and a goat which play about beneath.

TOWBOAT CASE FINALLY AGREED

Settlement With City Made Out of Court

Special to The News.

BEAUMONT, Texas, March 20.—The old city of Port Arthur case against the Ryan Towboat company was finally settled this morning by virtue of an agreed judgment in 60th district court.

Suit against the towboat company was filed in 1920 following a collision occurring on January 25 of that year. The boat struck some pilings near the bridge and damaged arising from this amounted to $791.44. Suit was filed by the city of Port Arthur and Commissioners John Tron, A. J. Bellone and A. A. Poter.

According to the judgment to be filed an agreement was reached between Attorney Vernon Wistner, for the city and J. W. Williams for the defendants whereby the case is dismissed at defendant's costs.

Let us demonstrate this stove to you

As easy to cook with as gas stove—Clean, powerful gas flame—Saves fuel, time and work—Genuine brass burner—Burns 400 gallons air to 1 gallon oil.

SOME OF THE MANY ADVANTAGES:

Patented Kerogas Burner—

Drawn out of one piece of solid brass. Rust-proof and seamless. Oil inlet is so placed as to prevent water getting into the burner.

Wick Raising Device—

Has two cog wheels with three points of support for the wick. Grips the wick carrier at all times.

Wick Regulator—

Makes the stove as easy to operate as a gas range. Saves dollars in wicks and oil.

Burner Drums—

Scientifically constructed. Mixes the proper amount of air with the gas generated from the oil. Result: The stove burns like a gas range, not like a lamp. Also concentrates the gas heat right below and around cooking utensils.

Full Cabinet Back—

Prevents false drafts from reaching the flame. Permits the stove to be used without having to close windows when they admit a cool breeze on a hot day. Stove can also be safely burned in the open by turning the back toward the wind.

Lower Shelf—

Three, four and five burner stove tops are reinforced to support convenient for pots, pans and kettles. Adds strength to the stove.

DECISION HELD BACK ON COURT

Many Constitutional Points
Bring Delay

Little hope is held out here for a decision out of the court of criminal appeals relative to the validity of the corporation court until sometime the first of next month.

With the passage yesterday of submission day in court, and the failure of the court to hand down a decision, it was believed likely the decision would be postponed indefinitely.

In view of the number of constitutional questions that have been injected into the case, it is believed more than usual will be concerned in deciding the case.

The test case challenging validity of the corporation court in Port Arthur went up from the 25th district court in the case of Shine Christian, charged with and convicted of vagrancy in the local court. Attorneys for Christian contend the court to be unconstitutional and have taken their appeal to the court of criminal appeals. The case was submitted to that tribunal Wednesday, March 12.

Lions Will Visit Peoples Gas Plant

Instead of the regular weekly luncheon at the Plaza hotel Friday, Port Arthur Lions will go to the Peoples Gas company, on West Nineteenth street, at noon for luncheon and inspection of the plant, L. J. Paschal, secretary of the club, said today.

Plans are completed for providing transportation for Lions who haven't automobiles, if they will phone 210 and leave their names, Paschal said.

Pleasure Pier Wire Broken By Anchor

The underwater cable furnishing power to motor units operating the Pleasure Pier bridge was broken by a passing ship which presumably had dragged its anchor, it was reported to the commission by Mayor J. P. Logan today.

The bridge has not been in operation since the approach was condemned some time ago as unsafe by City Engineer Herpin and no delays will result. Council resolution directed Herpin to make the necessary repairs, the principal job concerned being locating the cable ends, so designed when pressure is brought to bear they pull apart without damage.

Chautauqua Meet To Be Held Friday

A meeting of Port Arthur guarantors for the Chautauqua coming here in April is called for Friday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping rooms, C. E. Easchatt, president of the local chautauqua association said today.

Carl Miller, representative from the Chautauqua company, will be on hand to address the Port Arthur guarantors, outlining for them the 1924 program to be presented here by the chautauqua forces, Easchatt said.

The tract of park north of the Port Arthur high school has been selected as the site for pitching the chautauqua tent, Easchatt said.

MARRIAGE HAS BECOME MERE CONTRACT, SAYS

DAVID A. S. March 20.—Marriage without religion leads to divorce—marriage is degenerating into the formality of a legal contract.

That is what the Rev. Thomas A. Carney told Leaton worshippers here last night in a lecture on "marriage and divorce."

The religious element is being eliminated from marriage," he said. "The prime end of matrimony is the bringing of children into the world—so many forget this privilege and responsibility."

Scene of Concert Changed From Park

Because of the cold weather, the place of the High school band concert tonight from 7 until 8 o'clock has been changed from Lions Park to the corner of Austin avenue and Fifth street, Oren L. Lantz, band director and instructor, said today.

The concert program is comprised of eight numbers, and the High school saxophone section and Seng's string trio will be featured, Lantz said. Other concerts planned for the series starting tonight will be given in Lions park, if the weather permits, the director said.

CHINA REFUSES TO SIGN PACT

Soviet Demands That She
Ratify at Once

MOSCOW, March 20.—China's repudiation of the signature of her foreign minister Wang, on the Chinese-Russian occupation agreement signed recently at Peking, is unjustifiable and liable to lead to the most serious consequences for which China "will be responsible," it was declared in official Soviet circles today.

The Russian government was prepared to ratify the agreement which her emissary, Karakhan, signed with Wang and has demanded that China do likewise within three days. Up until today the Chinese cabinet had withheld ratification. The agreement provided for recognition of the Soviet government by China.

New York Rector in Defiance of Bishop

By United Press.
NEW YORK, March 20.—Defying the Episcopal ban imposed by Bishop William T. Manning, pagan dances will be held in connection with ritualistic services at St. Marks in the Bowery, next Sunday.

Vestry and wardens have decided to support Dr. William Norman Guthrie, rector of St. Marks, in his intention to hold the two Eurythmic ritualistic services.

A letter was sent to Bishop Manning advising him that the rector and his vestry found themselves unable to cancel the proposed services and pointed out that vital questions were involved.

Dog Saves Lives of 5 In Houston Fire

HOUSTON, March 20.—The devotion of a pedigreed setter saved the lives of five persons when the home of Lantz, built was destroyed by fire early today.

LEGION DOUBLES ITS MEMBERSHIP

Travis Holland Speaks On
Thrift at Meeting

Gain of 100 per cent in paid up members of Rudolph Lambert post American Legion during the last three weeks was reported to Legionnaires by Euprett Welch, post finance officer, at their regular business meeting Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in their club house on Lake Shore Drive.

Travis Holland, president of the First National bank, made an informal talk to the Legionnaires, stressing the idea of thrift, and expressing his desire to get acquainted with ex-service men individually and collectively.

Following the regular business session, the Legionnaires had a brief social hour, with O. L. Lantz, band director and instructor, and his saxophone band giving musical numbers.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is Calomel, the Purified and
Refined Calomel Tablets
That Are Nauseless, Safe
and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds, coughs, sore throat, and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the fever is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the nauseless, colored tablets called Calomels, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active fever may go a long way towards preventing influenza and colds and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One or two Calomels at bed time, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your fever is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Genuine Calomels are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family-purchase; ten cents for the small, vest-pocket size.—Adv.

TEXTILE INDUSTRY COMING SOUTH WHERE COTTON BLOSSOM GROWS

Away back in 1889, according to a trade review, eighty-one per cent of all the cotton spindles in the United States were in New England and only five per cent in the southern states.

In 1900 the southern proportion had grown to twenty-six per cent and New England's had fallen to sixty-six per cent.

In 1910 the percentages were New England fifty-six and the southern states thirty-six.

In 1920 southern spindles were forty-three per cent of the American total and New England's fifty-one per cent.

At the end of October, 1923, the gap between the two was narrowed for then New England's spindles represented only forty-eight per cent and the south's forty-six per cent.

According to the reviewer, while business was slack in the textile mills of New England last year, the southern mills continued to forge ahead with their spindles ever active.

There is a day coming when the cotton mills of the United States will be found in the southern states and the southwestern states stretching across the country from the Gulf of Mexico to the Imperial Valley of California.

Cotton goods are going to be manufactured in the land where the cotton plant grows. Roger W. Babson has made the discovery that Texas will lead in wealth and population within two decades but the progressive newspapers of Texas made the discovery in the long ago.

Texas is the banner cotton and wool producing state. Texas is the banner hide producing state. Port Arthur is within easy distance of the Panama Canal and in the coming years the trade of Mexico, the Central Americans and the Pan-American republic will mean more to the exporters of the United States than all the trade of Europe and Asia and Africa.

Some day the south is coming into its own and that day is not far off.

A NEW SLOGAN

Iowa republicans have adopted a new slogan. "Keep Coolidge" is their war cry. He is the only eminent American who doesn't own a flivver, prefers the saddle to the motor and is looked upon as a menace by Statesman Heflin of Alabama.

Iowa has never deserted the republicans in a presidential election. It will be a sight for the gods and men to watch Senator Smith William Brookhart deposit a straight republican ticket in the ballot box on November election day.

There are others. It will call the shades of Jefferson and Jackson and Wilson from their graves if it becomes known in that other world that James A. Reed of Missouri will cast his ballot for William Gibbs McAdoo in the remote event of that gentleman capturing the democratic nomination and winning the election.

Washington correspondents constantly referred in their writings before the Missouri decision to "the grand little elimination contest in Missouri" with McAdoo and Reed as the undertakers.

Washington correspondents are cynical. They have scant respect for emotional politicians or lightning calculators who come to the surface every four years before the national conventions are pulled off by the followers of the docile donkey and the lumbering elephant.

"OUR FOREMOST CITIZEN"

Detroit is very fond of Henry Ford, very proud of him. Now Detroit owes fifteen million dollars to the Detroit United Railway company incurred by the purchase of its trolley system. Detroit hasn't the money in its treasury but it is going to ask Henry for the money to pay for the street railway purchase and proposes to meet the loan by payments running for twenty years.

Remarkable man. He pays tax on a huge income to Uncle Sam; he keeps one hundred and fifty million dollars on deposit subject to check; he is going to erect a great assembling plant in Mexico for shipment of cars to all the Latin-American countries.

He is going to build a great assembling plant in Texas and to date not one of the wild men of America has denounced Wizard Henry as a leech, a blood sucker, a profiteer, or an oppressor of down-trodden labor.

How does he get by?

He isn't a true conservative unless he saves his small change and dreads a great change.

It might be worse. Reform measures come and go, but padlocks are improved year by year.

The Shenandoah may not sail, but there still is a chance to get a piece of change by leasing it.

Still, there are worse things than a congress so evenly divided that it must pass more high than bills.

Personally, we don't think much of a War Finance Board that didn't do a darned thing for Shelby.

"How can the farmer get a better price for his poultry?" Well, he can teach them to get in front of automobiles.

Presidential year has drawbacks, but it revives the faith of those who had begun to doubt Santa Claus.

We shall definitely lose faith in republics unless some auspicious senate committee looks into Life's war-plan prize offer.

When a modern politician mentions the "horny hands of toil," we advise him to sound the "C" very distinctly.

If you will study hard and get a good education, you may get a job importing it to future millionaires at $2,000 the year.

Correct this sentence: "I wouldn't object to paying taxes," said he, "if everybody would pay his fair share."

YOUR HEALTH

By Dr. C. C. Robinson

A REDUCING DIET
A satisfactory reducing diet must furnish enough of the rebuilding food (protein) for daily bodily use in tissue building. But since its caloric value is well below the average daily amount demanded by the body, from 2500 to 3500 calories daily, the deficiency must be supplied from the fat stored up in your body. This, of course, causes loss of weight.
Gradual reduction, calling for a weight decrease of from one to two pounds each week, is the objective sought. Gradually modify your diet. Take light exercise at first but gradually increase.
Make up your mind to give up your favorite sweets. You are in for reducing and one year should show good results.
A balanced diet must be maintained if the greatest goal is to be accomplished. The fats are to be avoided, but protein or body building food, starch, sugar and mineral salts must be carefully balanced.
Here is a good beginning diet for daily use:
Breakfast—small portion of fruit. Two eggs or a small portion of any lean meat. One cup of coffee, without sugar and small amount of milk; do not use cream.
Lunch—clear soup; no rice or noodles. Two slices of bread or small amount of toast or rolls; no butter. Green vegetables of any kind; small portion. Small portion of lean meat. Cup of tea or water.
Dinner—One cup of clear soup. One slice of bread, small part of butter. Non-fat meat, one small piece.
One potato or small portion of carrots or beets. Small cup of tea; no sugar.
Try this diet for a month, with very little variation. Always drink a fair amount of water, at least one pint during the day. Walking is the best exercise to start with your reducing.
This program will be extended in a later article.

THE NATION AND EDUCATION

BY DR. FRANK CRANE

From the beginning the people of the United States have been intensely interested in education.

The makers of the nation were a hardy race of pioneers and if they had not been possessed of a good deal of hard sense they never could have survived.

And one of the things that common sense sees in a democracy is that, "We must educate, or we must perish by our own pro-perty," as one of the early orators expressed it.

Much as the nation has done for education it has not done enough. That is not our fault in particular, but the fault of the whole human race; no nation has ever realized anything like the full purpose of education.

Sanderson of Omaha hit the nail on the head when he described the modern civilization as being "a race between education and catastrophe."

The meaning of that is that there is such a rapid increase in invention, and in the knowledge of how to use the great forces of nature, if we do not make, at the same time, progress in intelligence and discipline our whole edifice of civilization some day may be blown up. It came very near being wrecked in the last war and the opinion is pretty unanimous that the next war will be worse.

Three bills have been reported favorably in the national legislature. The Smith-Towner bill in 1918, the Towner-Sterling bill in 1921 and what is known simply as The Education bill in 1923. The principles of all these three are the same.

They are: First, to create a Department of Education with a secretary in the president's cabinet. Second, to create a national council of educators and laymen which will meet annually at the call of the secretary. Third, to give Federal aid to the states in the educational work. This federal aid will have five objects:

First: The removal of illiterates.
President Coolidge, speaking of the need for the Federal Government to give us aid freely to the states, said:

"If anyone doubts the need for the concerted action of the states of the nation for this purpose it is only necessary to consider the appalling figures of illiteracy representing a condition which does not vary much in all parts of the union."

This illiteracy represents a mass of ignorance which is really a mass of social, economic and political TNT lying around for some careless hand to touch it off.

The second purpose is the promotion of physical education. No one can deny that the place to begin training for national defense is in the schoolroom. The fourth object is the training of teachers.

The fifth and most important is the equalization of educational opportunities, so that the boy from the mountains of Kentucky shall have as good a chance as the boy from the streets of Boston to grow up a valuable citizen.

Every citizen should bring what pressure he can upon congressmen and senators to secure the passage of the Education Bill.

Associated Glee Clubs start a "systematic attempt to revive the interest of men in choral singing."

More power to them. Nothing buries axes and welds people together like a singing match. Patriotism, too, is at its best when the mob can burst into song.

Trouble is, so few songs are worth-while. Singing usually is an emotional debauch. On the other hand, that's pleasant than setting to words and music such worthless subjects as the Einstein theory, reparations and fourth dimension.

If this were 1940, the whole country would be singing parodies about Teapot Dome.

HUSKIES

People stand for a lot of cruelty in the name of sport. At the dog derby in Manitoba, "Shorty" Rusick's sledge, drawn by six husky dogs from the Arctic, traveled 200 miles, non-stop, in a trifle under 24 hours.

If anyone overworked wolfsounds like that in the course of everyday life in the Far North, a bunch of "murderers" opposed to cruelty to animals, would intervene with rifles.

FORTUNE'S FOOL

By RAYMOND BRADSHAW

Colonel Holley, soldier and adventurer, returns to England, his native land, where with Holland is a chance to see the actress Sylvia Parquithson.

It is dark when the colonel catches her to the house. Buckingham has rented.

Upon their arrival, Holley is horrified to see that Sylvia is an old sweetheart.

The servants of the Duke render the colonel unconscious. When Buckingham attempts to embrace Sylvia, she is thrown from her horse, resulting in a purple blotch, token of the plague.

The Duke and his servants flee. Holley nurses Sylvia and saves her life. Holley is ashamed and flees from Sylvia in the night. Sylvia attempts to nurse the plague victims. When Holley is brought to the hospital she nurses him back to life.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
Within less than a week he was about, regaining strength, and pronounced clear of the infection. Yet, before they would suffer him to depart into the world again he must undergo the period of sequestration that the law prescribed as to ensure against his conveying the infection to others. For this he was to be removed from the posthouse to a neighboring abode of rest and convalescence.

When the hour of departure came he went to take his leave of Nance. She awaited him on the lawn under the tall old cedars of Lebanon that graced the garden of this farm which had been converted to the purposes of a hospital.

There was a stone seat near at hand where in the shade, and she sank limply down upon it, whilst he stood beside her awaiting her dismissal. He was very plainly clad, in garments which she had secretly caused to be procured for him, but which he supposed to be the parting gift of the charitable post-house authorities.

She controlled herself to ask him steadily:

"What are you going to do? Where shall you go when . . . when the month is past?"

He smiled and shrugged a little. "I have not yet considered fully," he answered her in actual words, whilst his tone conveyed that he had neither thought nor cared of what might follow.

She lowered her glance, and for a long moment there was silence. Then she spoke again, calmly, almost formally, marshaling the points of an argument that she had well considered.

"You remember that day when we talked, you and I, in that house in Knight Rider street, just after my recovery? When I would have thanked you for my life, you rejected it, persuaded that I was moved only by gratitude for the life you had saved; that I ought by that forgiveness to discharge the debt in which you had placed me."

"It was so," he said, "and it is so. It cannot be otherwise."

"Can it not? Are you so very sure?" One upward appealing glance she flashed him as she asked the question.

"As I am sure that out of your sweet charity you forgive yourself," he answered.

"Do I? Let us say that I did. But if you say that I still do, then you are overlooking something. I am no longer in your debt. I have paid it in another and a fuller way. As you saved my life, so have I since saved yours. We are quits now, Randall. I no longer owe you anything. I am repaid you; therefore I am no longer under any necessity to be grateful. You cannot deny that."

"I would not if I could."

"Then, don't you see? Without indebtedness between us, no longer under any obligation to you, I have given you my forgiveness freely, frankly and fully. Your offense, after all, was not really against me . . ."

"It was," he said, "it was," he interrupted fiercely. "It was against my honor, much as it was against my own honor. It made me unworthy."

"Even so, you had my complete forgiveness from the moment that I came to know how cruelly you had been driven."

A little flush came to stain the pallor which his illness had left upon his cheeks. He bowed his head.

"I bless you for those words. They will give me courage to face . . . whatever may await me. I shall treasure the memory of them, and of your sweetest always."

"But still you do not believe me!" she cried out. "Still you think that behind it all there are some deeper . . . of . . . resentment in my heart!"

"No, no, Nance, as I believe you. And yet you will persist in going?"

"What else? You who know all now must see that there is no place for me in England."

She drew from the bodice of her gown a ruband and faded taseled glove. She held it out to him, looking up at him, and he saw that her eyes were wet.

"Here is something that belongs to you, at least. Take it, Randall. Take it, since it is all that you will have of me."

Almost in hesitancy he took that little glove, still warm and fragrant from sweet contact with her, and retained also the hand that proffered it.

"It . . . It shall again be a talisman," he said softly, "to keep me worthy of you, as I believe you are." Then he bowed over the hand he held, and pressed it to his lips. "Goodbye, and God guard you ever, Nance."

He would have disengaged his hand, but she clutched it firmly now. "Randall!" she cried sharply, desperately driven to woo this man who would not be won despite her clear invitation. In gentle, soothing rebuke she added: "Can you, then, really think of leaving me again?"

His face assumed the pallor of death, and his limbs trembled under him.

He disengaged his hand from her clasp at last. "Oh, why do you try me, Nance?" he cried out, like a man in pain. "God knows you cannot need me. What have I to offer—I am as bankrupt of fortune as of honor?"

"Do women love men for what they bring?" she asked him.

He looked at her steadily now, a man redeemed, driven back into the hard ways of honor by the scourge of all that had befallen him.

Abruptly he swung on his heel, and left her so abruptly, indeed, that his departure took her by surprise, found her without a word in which to stay him.

Justing Fortune had not yet done with Colonel Holley.

A month later, toward the middle of September, without having seen Nance again—since that, of course, would have been denied him, as it would have nullified his sequestration from infected persons and surroundings—he found himself at liberty to return to the ordinary haunts of man, supplied with a certificate of health.

So within an hour of his discharge he found himself tramping along the empty streets of the city, bound for distant Wapping. He must go afoot, not only because he lacked the means to go otherwise, but because there were no longer any boats plying for hire at any of the steps along the river, nor any hackney-coaches remaining in the streets. More than ever was London becoming a city of the dead.

Through that desolate emptiness he tramped in the moonlight, still, which still continued as intense as through the months that were past of that exceptional summer, until he came to the Fleet Ditch. Here it was that he beheld himself of The Harp in Wood Street where he had lodged, and of its landlord, the friendly Banks, who at some risk to himself had warned him when the messengers of the law were on his heels. So in the direction of Wood street he now turned his steps.

He found it much as other streets. Not more than one shop in four was standing open, and trade in these was idle and stagnant. Practor's famous ordinary at the sign of The Mitre—the most reputed eating house in London—was closed and shuttered.

He regarded this as an evil omen. But he passed on, and came presently to stand before the more modest Harp. He could scarcely believe his eyes when he saw its windows clean and open, its door flung wide.

He crossed the threshold, and turned in to the common room on his left. The room was clean-swept, his long shaggy table, were well scoured; but trade was slack, for the place contained a single occupant, a man in an apron who started up from a wooden armchair in which he had been dozing, with an ejaculation of:

"As God's my life, a customer!" Holley stared at him, and the man stared back at Holley. It was Banks, the "vintner himself."

"The vintner himself," he cried. "Or is it your ghost, sir? There's more ghosts than living men in this stricken city."

"We are both ghosts, I think," Banks, the Colonel answered him. "Maybe, but our gullets ain't ghostly, praise the Lord! And there's still some sack left at The Harp. Shall we have a bottle of medicine, Colonel?"

"I'd say yes, with all my heart. But, lackaday! I've not the means to pay for the sack."

"Pay?" the vintner made a lip. "Sit ye down, Colonel."

Banks fetched the wine and poured it.

"A plague on the plague, is the toast," said he, and they drank it. "Sifted Coleridge, but I am glad to see you, sir, for the worst for you. Yet you've contrived to keep yourself safe, avoiding not only the plague, but after peccant fellows that was them you!" Without waiting for a reply, he dropped his voice to add:

"You'll have heard how Danvers was took, and how he broke away and won free—good luck to him! But all that is a dream by now, that sort of thing, and no one to look much about it. But of yourself now, Colonel?"

"My tale's soon told. I've not fared quite as well as you suppose I've had the plague."

"The devil you have. And ye've been through!" Banks regarded him with a new respect.

Holley told him of his notion of sailing as a hand aboard a vessel bound for France.

Telling It To CONGRESS

OF COURSE NOT!

Mr. Speaker, I want to be heard. I do not believe there is a member in this house, whether there are any who are addicted to drink or not, who would buy liquor from a bootlegger; I do not believe it.—Representative Blanton, democrat, Texas.

JEFFERSON'S METHODS

I do not know whether or not Thomas Jefferson would turn over in his grave if he were asked to favor this legislation. I know, however, that he hated the Constitution out of the way when he wanted Louisiana, and he "got by" with it, and we are all proud that we have Louisiana.—Senator Ralston, democrat, Indiana.

Mrs. John W. Tryon Proves Gracious Hostess to Whist Club Wednesday Afternoon

AMONG the hospitalities which marked Wednesday as a favorite day for hostesses in entertaining was the attractive bridge luncheon given by Mrs. John W. Tryon at her home, 1725 Lake Shore drive, and arranged in entertainment of the Wednesday Whist club.

Fragrant premiere roses gave floral charm to the charmingly appointed luncheon tables, and suggested by their tints a pink motif, which was displayed in all details of the bridge-luncheon. A dainty two course luncheon was served, covers being laid for sixteen guests, with Mrs. May Dennis and Mrs. George Imhoff calling for luncheon.

Three tables of players enjoyed the afternoon-luncheon diversion of bridge, with Mrs. R. H. Woodworth scoring high in the games and receiving the club prize and Mrs. Horton J. Drake the second prize. Guest favors were presented to both Mrs. Charles F. Dickey and Mrs. A. H. Johns of Muskegon, Mich.

The personnel enjoying the pleasant event included Mrs. A. R. Johns, Mrs. Charles F. Dickey, Mrs. May Dennis, Mrs. George Imhoff, Mrs. R. H. Woodworth, Mrs. R. N. Woodworth, Mrs. G. L. Prichard, Mrs. A. N. Peckham, Mrs. Frank B. Mabry, Mrs. M. L. Linton, Mrs. J. P. Lauder, Mrs. Fred P. Dodge, Mrs. Horton J. Drake, Mrs. R. L. Drake, Mrs. P. A. Craig, Mrs. M. F. McNamee and Mrs. John W. Tryon.

Doesn't it look good for the barber, from these photos and sketches? There are the two coiffures (below) shown by the hairdressers and a sort of compromise semi-hair cut (above center). But the famous female predicts even the wavy bob (at left above) will be surpassed by the straight "hair cut" (at right).

NEW YORK, March 20.—Will the barber or the hairdresser win out?

That is the issue at present. The question is no longer whether a woman shall let her hair be cut by a man or a woman, but whether she shall let it be cut by a barber or a hairdresser.

Or, shall she turn her allegiance to the barber and let her hair be cut by a man, or shall she turn her allegiance to the hairdresser and let her hair be cut by a woman?

The old custom of a woman going to a barber for a haircut is fast disappearing. In its place is the custom of a woman going to a hairdresser for a haircut.

One of the most exclusive hairdressers in New York will cut hair only. He refuses to have anything to do with curling, but he specializes on an individual cut, matching the features in hand, that makes curls quite unnecessary.

A few seasons ago barbers were not so competent with women's clips as with men's, but the new feminine trade has developed great skill on their part and now men may well claim the mastery of women's hair.

But the greatest decisive victory of the barber comes from the fact that the new feminine trade has developed great skill on their part and now men may well claim the mastery of women's hair.

Wednesday Bridge Club Entertained By Mrs. Troyer

Mrs. L. O. Troyer's bridge luncheon yesterday at her home, 1202 Tenth street, was a charmingly arranged affair, the personnel of guests including members of the Wednesday Bridge Club.

Mrs. Troyer in entertaining selected a motif of yellow and white to predominate in the home adornment, and lovely yellow jaspars in crystal holders gave attractive floral charm. The menu of the dainty one o'clock luncheon cleverly reflected the yellow and white theme, and the bridge table appointments displayed the combination of colors in pleasing manner.

For success in the games Mrs. J. D. Bryan was presented with the club prize, and the social favor was awarded to Mrs. Thomas Culp. Congratulations fell to Mrs. L. E. Bailey.

Guests enjoying the gracious hospitality were Mrs. Thomas Culp, Mrs. E. D. Bennett, Mrs. J. M. Pyle, Mrs. L. E. Bailey, Mrs. J. D. Bryan, Mrs. G. H. Delevan, Mrs. S. D. Stuart, and Mrs. E. E. Hartman.

Last Saturday Johnnie Byrnes and Ellen Dorsey each made one of the requirements by serving breakfast and lunch to the girls on their hike from Magnolia Park in Beaumont. An enjoyable day was spent on this occasion, the girls making a six-mile tramp from Magnolia Park. Plans for the summer camp were also discussed at yesterday's meet.

Those in attendance were Rebekah Reed, Dorothy Jordan, Ethel Johnson, Helen Johnson, Charles Mac Abington, Maurine Shivers, Lila Dyeus, Beatrice Johnson, Elmer Wall, Clara Mae Richardson, Johnnie Byrnes, Ellen Dorsey and the guardian, Mrs. R. L. Ruten.

FOUR MILLIONAIRE POLICE IN DARIEN

DARIEN, Conn., March 20.—Darien cops, folks were up on a spree. Whenever cops were needed they were out upon a spree. One cop was perched on a holdup man and one a fireman, and everybody was afraid the force would steal the "jug". But now they're in Darien, a smile that's gone and the cops are appointed four new cops, each one a millionaire.

"They're famous chaps, every one," says Elmer Sheriff. "They've spent their lives around big clubs; no more will crook annoy."

New Treatment For Varicose or Swollen Veins

Swollen veins are dangerous and often hurt. Sufferers are advised to get a two-ounce original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength) at Hart Drug Co., Service Drug Co. and Corner Drug Co. will supply you, and start to reduce the veins and blemishes at once.

Physicians recommend Emerald Oil: It is used in hospital practice and a small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush as directed until the swelling is reduced to normal. It is guaranteed.

So marvelously powerful is Emerald Oil that enlarged glands, wens and even goitre disappear when used steadily. Mail orders accepted.—Adv.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

That cold may turn into "Flu", Grippe, or even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c, in jars and tins.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO JOHN ALDEN PRES-COTT

MY DEAR LESLIE: I have a very nice plan to propose to you. The nurse who has been taking care of your mother I find is without relatives, and she has become tired of the life and hard work which public nursing entails. I sounded her the other day on the subject, and find that at least for a year she would very much like to settle down in some quiet, easy place like your mother's home.

She is a very sensible young woman about 30 years old, and she seems to get along with your mother perfectly. Indeed, I think it is she who made your mother so gracious to me lately.

I think she would be glad to become your mother's companion and nurse, when nursing is needed, for about $75 a month. I am sure we can do some work with this one mother. It would make her much easier, and her life pleasant, and I am sure it would take a great deal of care off your shoulders, dear Jack.

To me, dear, there is nothing in the world so easy to give as money, and most of us have on to it so generously. I'm sure I can economize and pay half of this out of my allowance, for the real comfort of knowing that your mother is happy. Don't you think it a good scheme? By the way, dear, I wonder if you remember when we were first married what a terrible quarrel we had and how particularly ugly you were when I innocently opened one of your letters. I think you must have forgotten it; otherwise you wouldn't have sent me Miss Perier's letter opened.

Oh, Jack! Jack! I'm afraid you will never learn that what is sent for the good is sent for the good. You might have known I would have sent you the letter; then why be so curious about it?

I'm wondering if you recognized the handwriting on the envelope. However, I don't think it was any more right for you to open my letters than you thought I was right in opening yours. Please don't do it in the future.

I am glad you forwarded me the cables from mother and Alice. My sister is a very little puss, and I am almost sure now that she's been in love with Karl ever since she was a little girl. They're coming home immediately and will be married directly they arrive and arrangements can be made.

All the good wishes that I can give her. Jack are boiled into one which is: I hope she'll be as happy as we have been.

I wish I were there now, and have you take me in your arms and say, "Do you really mean that, Leslie? that we've been happy?" For I want to tell you I would not exchange you with all your faults for all the Karl Whitneys in the world. I'm coming home Saturday.

Love, Leslie

TOMORROW—Sally Alderton replies to Jim Condon: "What a boy you are!"

But Eve's costume was too much for him. "Gee, down!" he shouted and the performance ended then and there for good.

Eve faintly protested and resented especially the imputation that she hadn't been dressed enough.

"I can't play Eve in an evening gown can I?" she exclaimed indignantly.

PAIR OF APES TO LIVE IN SCIENTIST'S HOME

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Experiments that are expected to reveal the utmost limits of the psychology of apes are being conducted here by Robert M. Yerkes, former professor of psychology at Harvard and now with the national research council in Washington.

Mr. Yerkes is working on two apes for the winter, Chim Chim and Puss, who lived one time in Africa.

BEFORE TWINS WERE BORN

Was Very Miserable. Felt Lots Better After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Worcester, Wis.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my twins were born because my sister used it and recommended it to me. I was so miserable I could scarcely go to my daily work. I was in such misery, but after taking this compound I felt better. I took three bottles and a half before I was confined and finished the bottle while I was in bed. I got up feeling fine and have taken care of the twins alone ever since. I recommend the Vegetable Compound highly and will sing its praises in the future."

Mrs. Ida Gekertz, Worcester, Wis.

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many mothers are left in a weakened and run-down condition after childbirth, and for such mothers the care of the baby is well-nigh impossible. Not only is it hard for the mother, but the child itself will indirectly suffer.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a tonic for the mother both before and after childbirth. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and can be taken in safety by nursing mothers.

Stop Pyorrhea

Save Your Teeth Before It Is Too Late

Do not take chances of losing your teeth. Pyorrhea is a disease of the gums which can be cured by the use of the "Pyorrhea Cure" which is a scientific combination of certain ingredients that produces a fine powder which, when shaken into the shoes, seems immediately to be absorbed into the blood through the myriads of pores of the feet. This is due to the fact that the soles of the feet contain 10 times as many pores as the soles of the hands, and in other parts of the body.

New Way to Relieve Rheumatic Pain Quickly, Discovered by Famous Italian Druggist

No Medicine to Take Speedy Relief Guaranteed by Local Druggists

After exhaustive research into the cause and treatment of rheumatism, there has been discovered a safe, efficient treatment which has quickly relieved thousands of chronic sufferers from their torturing pain.

Alexandro Volta, the famous Italian physicist for whom the electric cell was named, has discovered a scientific combination of certain ingredients that produces a fine powder which, when shaken into the shoes, seems immediately to be absorbed into the blood through the myriads of pores of the feet. This is due to the fact that the soles of the feet contain 10 times as many pores as the soles of the hands, and in other parts of the body.

NORTHER DELAYS INBOUND SHIPS

Two Vessels Leave For Foreign Ports

Delay to vessels inbound to Port Arthur as a result of the northern sweeping out across the Gulf of Mexico is reported by Port Arthur shipping men today. Among the vessels scheduled to arrive today was the tanker Castina, bringing a cargo of Mexican crude oil to the Gulf Refining company here, but because of the north wind, it is doubtful if the vessel will make this port before Friday, according to advices to Sydney C. Collin company, agents for the Castina.

Two foreign ships, the Spanish tanker Gobeo, and the British tanker War Pathon, departed from Port Arthur today, for foreign destinations. The Gobeo is scheduled to go by Houston to complete cargo and sail for Antwerp, while the War Pathon cleared for Devonport, England, for orders. Other sailings from the district today include the Atlantic Steaming company's tanker Ishara, from Port Arthur for Philadelphia; and the Standard Transportation company's tanker, also from Port Arthur for New York, via Sabine to finish.

Arrival of the tanker Lio in Port Arthur early this afternoon was expected by Sydney C. Collin company, agents for the ship. The Lio is scheduled to dock at the Gulf Refining company's terminals for bunkers before proceeding to the Magnolia company's terminals to load cargo. The British tanker British Light, loading at the Texas Company's terminals for Tampico, will sail late today or early Friday, the Collin agency said today.

BILIOUSNESS BANISHED OVER-NIGHT

Well posted physicians now treat the liver and digestive organs together, as they are inseparable and to treat one without treating the other is no longer practiced. Colomel is the one remedy doctors depend on for the liver, while for the digestive tract, nothing has ever been found that acts as surely and efficiently as Peppin. The best results cannot be obtained unless both the liver and digestive organs are active. This is exactly what Peppinated Colomel does. It contains the gentle, imported English Colomel in combination with Peppin and other helpful ingredients. "It is mild but certain, causing no heartburn or unpleasantness and will absolutely relieve bad cold, torpid liver, indigestion, bil-

TEXAN FIGURES IN MURDER CASE

Files Charges of Assault Against W. C. Gates

By Green Press
HOUSTON, March 20.—William C. Gates, who figured recently in Louisville "ambush murder" was charged today with assault with a prohibited weapon upon W. W. Anderson, Houston, in an indictment returned against him by the Harris county grand jury.

The indictment followed charges of kidnapping and a suit filed against Gates and Richard C. Heaton last Saturday by Anderson.

Houston was slain in Louisville several days ago by Gates, who charged Heaton with holding him captive two days preparing to operate upon him for a fancied wrong.

LAKE CHARLES, La.—Decision in the injunction suit brought by 18 residents seeking to restrain the police from patrolling the streets of the town south of the court house is expected to be rendered by the court.

MISSOURI HITS SENATOR REED

Primary Conventions Shut Him Out of Pow-Wow

HUGH NUGENT-FITZGERALD
The Port Arthur News Staff
Missouri democrats have spoken—this is, insofar as it is possible for a primary election instead of a direct primary election can be expected to speak, Missouri democrats, or a majority of those who will control the state convention to select delegates to the Madison Square Garden convention, are bitterly hostile to James A. Reed as a contender for the democratic presidential nomination and will vote accordingly.

Reputed in 1920
In 1920 Senator Reed was refused admittance to the state convention in Missouri and later barred from the national convention in the city of San Francisco. McAdoo, Meadwell, and delegates in that year in Missouri and California were against Reed almost to a man. Wilson democrats captured the state machinery from state to precinct and they have held the organization ever since.

Senator Reed walked into a trap when he invited Missouri knowing that a state primary convention primary had been ordered by the state committee to shut him out of the Madison Square Garden convention as he had been shut out of the San Francisco convention. His ego is as much as his command of the English language is fascinating and penetrating. He jumped in, he campaigned ten days, he closed his speaking tour at Louisiana, Missouri on the night of March 6 and he must have had a premonition of the disaster that his political enemies, said was about to overtake him.

McAdoo Seizes Him
William Gibbs McAdoo earlier in the week had given the man from Missouri the most terrific scolding of his career, and in reply to McAdoo in the closing speech of his campaign Senator Reed said he "wanted to drive the clenching nail in the political coffin of William Gibbs McAdoo for it is my duty to fight for the public wherever the will of the people corruption may lead. Mr. McAdoo may win the Missouri delegation, but no man wearing boots filled with Mr. Doherty's petroleum can carry a state in the general election."

This was on the eve of precinct primary convention in the 111 counties of Missouri. St. Louis has 206 delegates. Kansas City has 174 delegates and these great centers of Missouri population instructed for Reed. All in all, 1138 delegates were elected to the democratic state convention at Springfield on April 15.
In the smaller cities of the state and rural districts, convention after convention sent anti-Reed delegates to the state convention and the plan is made by the newspapers of Missouri that the Wilson democrats will control the state convention by a very substantial majority and send an anti-Reed first and last and all the time to the Madison Square Garden convention.

McAdoo's Appeal
Mr. McAdoo and his lieutenants appealed to the democrats of Missouri for instructed delegates to the state convention. Upwards of one hundred delegates were instructed for McAdoo, but more than a majority of the convention will be made up of delegates who are anti-Reed and anti-McAdoo. Reed is the man who the Wilson sentiment is very strong, overbalanced Reed and, as the Wilson democrats who controlled the conventions, refused in most cases to give McAdoo instructions or tie the hands of their delegates.

Governor Francis M. Pickens who was a favorite son candidate until the first convention crowded him off the stage has less than 20 instructed delegates to the state convention to his credit. James A. Reed will not be a candidate for the democratic presidential nomination. His light has been snuffed out.

Woodrow Wilson living, could not defeat Reed for reelection to the senate. Woodrow Wilson in his grave made it impossible for Reed to make his peace with the rural democrats of Missouri or to win their support in his race for presidential honors. St. Louis and Kansas City are large railway centers. There are thousands of railway, brotherhood men in these large centers of population. They must have landed in the Reed camp as the Reed men swept everything before him, and thus gave the fighting senator 300 votes or almost a third of the accredited delegates who will hold seats in the Springfield convention.

Woodrow Wilson has had his revenge. William Gibbs has had his revenge. James A. Reed doubtless feels that he has had his revenge in the failure of the Missouri democrats to instruct for the California contender for the presidential nomination.

PASTOR URGES NEED OF HOME REVIVAL
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 20.—That the parents should need it is a duty to encourage the return to home life by the proper training of their children was brought out in a lecture by the Rev. Christian G. Koppel, pastor of the Cleveländ Methodist Episcopal church.
"What we need today," Dr. Koppel said, "is not a revival of government or trade, but a revival of the old-fashioned Christian home. With old-fashioned Christian training the parents of today are not backing up the church and Sunday school."

WOMAN'S QUICK WIT SAVES CALLER'S LIFE
BALTIMORE, Md., March 20.—Her clothes afire, Mrs. Elizabeth Myers, saved from burning to death when Mrs. Viola Smit, a neighbor whom she was visiting, threw a basin of water on her and wrapped her in blankets. Mrs. Myers, who is 50 years old, was sitting in front of an open gas stove in Mrs. Smit's home when her clothing caught fire. Mrs. Smit brought a pan of water from the kitchen and threw it on the flames. She then wrapped Mrs. Myers in blankets, extinguishing the fire.

RHEUMATIC NEURITIS
Leaves You Forever

Every druggist in this country is authorized to sell every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenbur, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.
Allenbur has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless.
Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenbur, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenbur decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. Hart Drug Co., Service Drug Co., and Corner Drug Co. will supply you. Mail orders accepted.—adv.

SCHOOL TO GIVE PLAY MARCH 26

'College Days' Will Be Produced By Pupils

Worked up by Port Arthur High school boys and girls under the direction of Miss Audrey Lucile Smith, supervisor of music in the city schools, and Miss Leona Dietz, of the dramatic expression department, at the schools, the operetta, "College Days," will be presented in Franklin school auditorium on the nights of March 26 and 27. The performances, starting at 8 p. m., school officials said today.

The comedy vein in the production and snappy musical numbers, given by students, and by the ensemble, with a chorus of high school girls, go to make "College Days" one of the most delightful and successful entertainments ever arranged in the schools here, according to word from school officials. The cast has been rehearsing nightly, and the operetta is practically ready for presentation, those directing the staging of it said today.

Students taking part in the entertainment are Glen Galt, J. N. Cavalliere, Dorothy Stevenson, John Walker, Robert Smith, Leonard Lacey, and Gentry, Nick Hyde, Ernest Butler, Lawrence Smith, Jewel Livingston, Jimmie Livingston, Ray Branson, Dent Taylor, Howard Crow, Jimmy Kromeyer, Lela Mae Smith, Pauline Durham, Christine Whitman, Elsie Goodrich, Jeannette Steppes, Alice Hatcher, Edith Davis, Opal Blue and Ruth Morgan.

DIES GIVING SKIN TO SAVE SON'S LIFE

WALLINGFORD, Conn., March 20.—Last October 12-year-old Fred C. Bouzanger was run over by a truck and the flesh of his right leg above the knee was mangled. The only thing that could save the leg doctors declared was to graft skin. His father and mother both volunteered and 60 patches of skin, each one inch square were grafted to the boy's leg.
Fred showed signs of improvement and Mrs. Bouzanger was apparently none the worse for the operation but the father Fred C. Bouzanger Sr. did not fare so well. After four months of pain happily borne in the knowledge that his son is safe the father is dead.

IF BACK HURTS FLUSH KIDNEYS

Drink Plenty of Water and Take Glass of Salts Before Breakfast Occasionally

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which help to remove the body's various waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours, they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so you can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.
Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and you doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. It all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

LEAPS TO FREEDOM THROUGH CAR WINDOW

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., March 20.—Baker Farley, 19 years old, of Logan, leaped from a speeding Chesapeake & Ohio train near G.H. Logan county, and disappeared, according to a story told by Deputy United States Marshal E. E. Buskirk. The prisoner, in Buskirk's custody, asked permission to raise a window, the deputy explained while the train was moving at a speed of 40 miles an hour. Buskirk said he leaped through the window.
Farley was being brought to Huntington to face trial in federal court on a charge of having violated the United States liquor law.

Port Arthur Elks to Meet St. Joe Team Saturday and Sunday

5,000 Attendance Expected at Game With League Team

Mayor and Chief of Police to be Opening Battery for Contest; YMBL Backing Up Event With Popular Prices Prevailing

PORT ARTHUR ELKS are to cross bats with the St. Joseph, Mo., League baseball team here Saturday and Sunday afternoon, it was announced here today by the Port Arthur Y. M. B. L., and arrangements are being made to care for an expected attendance of 5000 persons.

Mayor J. P. Logan has consented to pitch the first ball, with Chief of Police W. W. Covington on the receiving end of the battery. It was announced that a substantial reward has been raised for presentation to the mayor if he furnishes the first St. Joseph batter-up at the plate. Likewise, St. Joseph batters have raised a reward for presentation in event a home run is knocked out by the first man up.

A. A. Gunter of the Y. M. B. L., today gave out a statement in which he gave the reasons for Saturday's and Sunday's games and urged a large attendance. His statement follows:

Everybody: The people of Port Arthur are invited to see the local Elks' ball team cross bats with St. Joe team in Cosmopolitan Park next Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock and again Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the popular and reasonable admission price of fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for school boys and girls.

Elks' Stars Good
The local Elks' team is composed of the best aggregation of amateur ball players in the country. Many of these men are playing amateur ball of their own choice. Among them are men who have played and made good with league teams. We will know the Elks and how they perform in fast company. The lineup for these games will be drawn from the following well known players: Leach, Freeman, King, Smith, Van Camp, Jones, Smith, Trout, March, Carley, Priestner, Hooker, Morgan, Romero, Black, Denning, Bell and others.

The St. Joe team has the stuff as was demonstrated last Saturday and Sunday with the Exporters from Beaumont.

Expect 5000 to Attend
There will be a wonderful exhibition of classy ball playing for the time of the year. Full of local coloring and interest to everybody on both Saturday and Sunday. The attendance record is scheduled to be 5,000 people. We want you to see and enjoy these games. We want you to come out and meet your old friends and make new ones. Forget your job, position or business and be a real fellow again for twice. It will do you good and help you too. That is it.

There are other reasons why you should come to the games Saturday and Sunday. First of all, there will be something never before seen in a ballgame in Port Arthur. The mayor and the chief of police of the city will be there in Elks' uniforms and will appear up as pitcher and catcher respectively and will serve the first batter up for St. Joe. You probably did not know that these gentlemen are ball players of no mean reputation. I tell you they are, but I want you to come and see for yourselves. A large reward is being offered by the Elks' supporters to the "official" battery to run the first batter-up for St. Joe and the St. Joe supporters are offering a corresponding reward for a home run.

Most Meet Guarantee
There are yet other reasons why you should join us in attending these games. Many of our citizens felt that it would be a fine thing to bring some league team to Port Arthur for spring training. The Young Men's Business League put the idea into action, and we now have with us the St. Joe, Missouri, league team on a guarantee of gate receipts in the sum of $2,500 for admissions to the exhibition games. The weather and many other obstacles were against us in the games at Saturday and Sunday and we must still raise $1,000 besides expenses and war-tax to make good our guarantee. Here now is an opportunity to get the worth of your money in the way of pleasure and at the same time help a good cause along. When I say that by supporting these ball games you will be helping a good cause along, I express myself sincerely. You may be one of the few to correctly say that it takes time to make a city. We are not going to wait for our natural increase in population to make the city great. We want to attract people to our city and cause it to grow more rapidly. To attract people we must become known; we must advertise our merits. This ball team we have with us is from Missouri. We must "show them". By showing them, we will show others. These are the reasons from across twenty states that you will carry the story of Port Arthur with them to all the cities on their itinerary during the ball season and then to their home states in cities at the close of the season. It is impossible to foresee the noble good results which may come through the advertising this team will give, if we put this training camp over with a bang. Don't be a groucher. Don't say it can't be done. Remember the story of Columbus. Get in with us and let's take chance on this venture.

How City Benefits
If you are a conservative business man and satisfied with the present state and growth of the city, desiring to accumulate a little more wealth for yourself, then let me remind you that the St. Joe ball team brought 27 men to this city. They will be here more than a month. The payment of this team will spend the city approximately $4,000 and individual players will spend approximately $2,000 more. More than

BEAUMONT Y BEATS P.A. GIRLS

Port Arthur College Puts Up Hard Fight

By VAN M. ANDRUS

The routine of basketball fate spun round last night at the Beaumont Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, but its mistress failed to favor the local girls, and the Y. W. C. A. made defeated Captain Don Allen's Port Arthur college Beaters 26 to 18. The game was unusually hard fought and rough for a girls' match, neither team relinquishing an advantage.

The Y. W. presented a fast and sure working team. Barber and Dodd, their forwards, showed speed and accuracy that was hard to stop. The Y. girls have not been defeated this season and are champions in the Beaumont Women's league.

Port Arthur college lost last night, but made the winners play hard for every score. Willie Scott with her sidestepping and dribbling advanced through the close vigil of the Y's guard to score ten points. The Y's guard to score ten points. The Y's guard to score ten points.

Dodd F. Davis
Pipkin F. Carroll
Muller G. Miller
Lyle G. Norris
Shaw G. Westerman
Substitutions: None.
Scoring: Barber, 18; Dodd, 6; Scott, 10; Davis, 9.
Referee: Ryan (Sam Houston Normal).

Time of periods: Ten minute thirds.
All of this amount they brought into Port Arthur with them and will leave here. So we see that this team will pay a handsome dividend in cash.

My acquaintance with the visiting ball players and advice from my friends concerning them warranted my saying that they are a splendid set of young men quite worthy of your respect and patronage. I therefore urge everybody to join heartily with us in this baseball venture. Buy as many tickets as you can afford, when you are called on by anyone out selling tickets to these scheduled games for Saturday and Sunday. Let us go over the top with this new venture. We are counting on you. Come and cheer us.

Respectfully,
ALTO A. GUNTER,

Sisler Has No Set Rules for Training

MOBILE, March 20.—There are no training rules in the camp of the St. Louis Browns.
The demon athletes can play all the golf they want to, say nothing of mah jongg, polo, and ski jumping. "I never liked rules when I was a player and I don't intend to have any now that I am a manager," Sisler explained.

SISLER WHOLE SHOW

MOBILE, Ala., March 20.—George Sisler got two hits out of five times at bat, stole a base, scored a run and played first without an error in an exhibition game with the Mobile Bears. The Browns won, 11 to 7.

GRIFFITH RECOVERS

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 20.—Recovery of Tom Griffith, who has been out for three weeks with a sprained wrist made all of the regulars of the Brooklyn Robins serviceable again.

GIANTS BEATEN 4-2

SARASOTA, Fla., March 20.—After taking a 4 to 2 whipping from the St. Louis Cardinals on a homer by Hornby the Giants were back in camp today.

ACTOR GOING TO OKLAHOMA

Local Wrestler Attempts To Get Jones Match

George Actor is leaving today for Houston where he says he hopes to obtain a wrestling match with Paul Jones, who threw Harry Manos here some time back. Efforts have been made to bring Jones here for a match with Actor but promoters could not agree over financial terms, and so such efforts have been dropped.

Actor, a Texas wrestler, expects to go to Oklahoma City and Enid, Okla., where both places he asserts he has been promised several matches with the best wrestlers of Oklahoma. Actor expects to return to Port Arthur within a month or two and will then go to California for a series of "travelling bouts." He spent most of last year in California, where he picked up the Japanese armlock with which he defeated most of his opponents during the season just closing here.

New Catcher Looks Good

MAINTAIN ACTREY
NEW ORLEANS, La., March 20.—While the Yankees' catching staff with Wally Schang in trim comes up to the big league standard, Manager Huggins is aware that Schang cannot star forever. As a result he is paying much attention to the crop of young receivers trying out with the Yankees. Among those showing promise and who may be retained for development is Martin Autrey.

BILLY EVANS SAYS

Baseball creates more unusual situations than any other sport. Yet some freak happenings are credited to the good old game of golf. James Ockenden, the famous English golfer, in discussing freak happenings of the links, tells of the most unusual spoon shot on record. Ockenden did not perform the shot himself, the credit for it, if any exists, goes to the great French golfer, Andre Boomer.

Aside from the record spoon shot that Ockenden saw Boomer make, he is also credited with having negotiated 72 holes in 256, the lowest score ever made for that distance.

According to Ockenden, Boomer thinks less of his record round than the freak spoon shot he made during the Daily Mail Thousand Guinea tournament at Lanchester last summer.

On one hole Boomer, after a long drive, found his ball lying in front of an abrupt bank about two feet high over which he had to shoot. The distance to the bank was only a few yards. Boomer wanted to get distance to reach the green and decided he could clear the obstruction with his spoon.

Taking a tremendous swing he cut into the ball. There was a sharp crack that usually goes with a well-hit ball. Eyes turned down the fairway but the ball was nowhere in sight.

In search of the neighboring rough the gallery, perhaps more in jest than anything else, told Boomer to look into the pocket of a sweater he was wearing.

Boomer did so, and to his great amazement discovered the lost ball in his sweater pocket. It had caromed off the dirt bank into the sweater pocket. Boomer's arms at the time being raised high above his shoulders in the "follow through."

No doubt many golf fans and others who have never been on the links, read Ockenden's story, merely smiled and remarked "more hot air."

On the surface it may seem like an impossibility for a good golfer to play such a freak shot. Yet such a thing can happen. Such an incident came under my own observation. I was one of the foursome playing at the time. Harry Moore, one of Cleveland's

Couch and Hackensmith Both Ready to Wrestle Tonight

All Ready for Tonight's Match

That's the statement from Jesse Couch and Jack Hackensmith, wrestlers, who are scheduled to go to the mat tonight in Fort's arena in a no-time-limit decision match. The best two out of three falls decides the winner.

It was announced today that the match would not start until 9 o'clock on account of today being pay day and many might be prevented from attending should the match go on earlier.

Couch and Hackensmith have both been working out in preparation for tonight's contest ever since last Thursday night when Hackensmith hurled his deft from the ring just as Couch and Buhrine were ready to go on the mat. Both today pronounced themselves in the best physical condition for the 30, and they were equally confident of winning.

Several fast preliminary events have been arranged with the best local amateur talent taking part. Ladies will be admitted free to the match, it was announced today.

NO FAST BALLS FOR RUTH, SAYS

Sister Says His Man Pruett Has Babe's Number

MOBILE, Ala., March 20.—When told that Babe Ruth was hoping the pitchers would pitch to him instead of passing him, George Sisler, manager of the Browns, indicated that the Stambino would get his wish.

"The Browns' pitchers will pitch to him all the time except where circumstances warrant an intentional pass," Sisler said.

"Ruth is a great hitter, but can be stopped. Eddie Cloutie used to stop him regularly and Horbie Pruett of our ball club has his number on him."

"Ruth has only made one home run off Pruett and that was on a fast ball—the only fast ball, by the way, Pruett ever threw him." Sisler declined to say how he would have his pitchers work on Ruth.

"We won't throw him any fast balls, though," he promised.

AGUSTA, Ga., March 20.—Manager Ty Cobb took 19 of his Tigers with him to Macon today to play Toronto in the Detroit's first exhibition game.

O'DOWD GETS READY
CHICAGO, March 20.—Mickie O'Dowd, scheduled to fight Sammy Rockford here Monday has arrived to put the finishing touches on his training.

WELCH IN CHALLENGE
CHICAGO, March 20.—Eddie Welch, South Bend, Ind., has issued a challenge to Joe O'Hara, Chicago boxer.

While Dizzy Vance of Brooklyn struck out 15 New York Giants in 40 innings last season, Jimmy Ring of the Phillies turned in the more creditable performance. Working against Chicago he struck out 12 men in 8 innings. In 1923 he made 11 of the Giants whiff in 8 innings.

Best known golfers, pulled such a stunt several years before the great Boomer turned the trick.

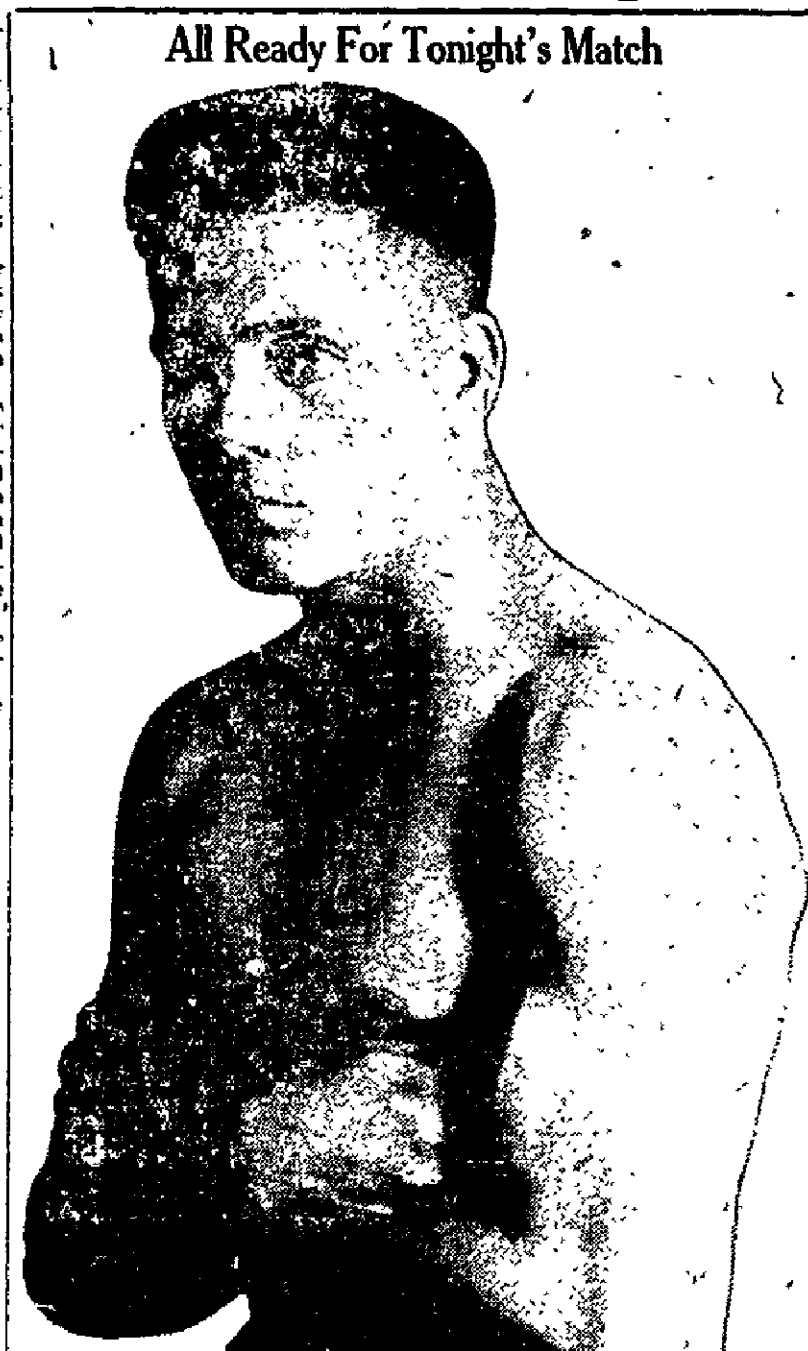

While Moore's golf does not compare with that of Boomer, the fact that he is left-handed may explain how he happened to pull the stunt.

Playing out of a sand trap, Moore did exactly the same thing as Boomer, smashed into the bank with his ball, came being deflected into his sweater pocket.

Joe Kirkwood has been working on the sweater shot for nearly a year, but has yet been unable to perform the remarkable accomplishment that belongs only to Boomer, the professional, and Moore, the amateur.

Rothgeb Signs Five Year Contract With A. & M. As Assistant Football Coach

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, March 20.—A five-year contract has been signed by the A. & M. College Athletic Council with C. J. Rothgeb, to return to the college on September 1, and take up the duties which he dropped two years ago as assistant football coach.

This announcement was made yesterday by James Sullivan, business manager of athletics.

Coch Rothgeb was line coach for the Aggies in 1920, when the Farmers won all of their games except the last with the University of Texas, and the following spring he turned out a conference championship track team. He left in the summer before the beginning of the 1921 football season to take up the management of his father-in-law's business in Champaign, Ill. Last year he found time from his business enterprises to act as assistant coach at the University of Illinois.

Before coming to the A. & M. College, Rothgeb coached football at the University of Colorado and at Colorado College.

AGGIES TO GET FIRST BIG TEST

Play Waco Indians on Kyle Field Friday

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
COLLEGE STATION, Texas, March 20.—The first tests of Aggie baseball strength will be permitted Friday and Saturday afternoon when the Waco League club Indians come to Kyle field for a pair of games with Coach H. H. House's Aggies. In coaching his squad following the week of practice which concluded last Saturday, Coach House has definitely set his judgment upon the men best fitted to carry out Farmer diamond loques this spring. He has left 21 men in uniform and has stated that he will not make another cut this season but will maintain that squad throughout the playing period.

Two for Each Post
Examining the list which he has retained it appears that he has found a couple of men for each position and for the pitching staff has held a reserve of four men to support King Gill of Dallas and H. L. Rogers of Mart. These four are T. Kishi of Terry, L. H. Daniel of Corsicana, J. A. Graves of East Angover, New Hampshire, and M. B. Jennings of Maclelland, To R. H. Crawford of Chicago who has been held over for the second base position may fall some of the responsibility of the pitching work. Gill is a right hander and Rogers is a southpaw. There is an assortment of left and right hand slingers in the others.

Port Arthur Boy in Nine
From the players that House has made the last four days in practice comes it appears that a likely lineup for the Friday game would include Jack Fargason of San Antonio and captain of the team behind the bat, Gill and Rogers in the box, J. D. Johnson of Kingsville at first base, S. P. Craig of Brookston at second, W. N. Chapman of Hattiesburg at third, W. N. Montgomery of Port Arthur at shortstop, Jack Williams of San Antonio in left field, S. M. Kyle of Peoria in right field, and A. M. Puckett of San Antonio in center field.

MRS. SHOCKER ONLY WIFE IN BROWNS' CAMP
MOBILE, March 20.—Urban Shocker, star spitball pitcher, who left the Browns that on their unopened in last fall, because the club officials wouldn't let him take his wife east with the team, has appeared forgotten all about his grievances and is down here working out with the enthusiasm of a rookie.

N. B.—Mr. Shocker has Mrs. Shocker here with him.

N. B.—Mrs. Shocker is the ONLY wife in camp.

Holkeher Hard to Fool
Shortstop Charley Holkeher, who refuses to report to the Chicago Cubs, because of a salary difference, is the hardest man in the National League to strike out. He whiffed only five times last season. Eddie Collins with eight strikeouts, was the toughest batter to foul in the American league.

Two Hard-Hitting Pitchers
They do say that pitchers cannot hit. The averages of the 1923 world series fail to bear out that belief. Jack Bentley, with an average of .400, was high among the Giants, while Joe Bush, with a mark of .429, showed the way to the Yankees.

GIBBONS IN EXHIBITION
CHICAGO, Ill., March 20.—Tommy Gibbons went six rounds with Andy Anderson in an exhibition match here.

'SIGN OR LEAVE' HUGGINS
NEW ORLEANS, March 20.—"Sign your papers by Sunday or get out" was the ultimatum reported given by Miller Huggins to Bob Menzel, holdout outfielder.

Urban Makes Fine Showing

By NEA Service
NEW ORLEANS, La., March 20.—On the form already shown in spring training, one Yankee recruit certain to stick is Catcher Luke Urban.

Urban is the former Boston College athlete who starred on the gridiron as well as diamond. He gives every promise of developing into a great catcher.

Last season with Buffalo in the International League, he led the catchers in fielding and batted .310.

INDIANS DOWN REDS
LAKELAND, Fla., March 20.—The Indians defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 8 to 7. The tribe furnished the power behind six of the homers slugged out. George Burns, Indian first sacker got two.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected
Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because of kidney trouble, and the large majority of those who apply are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—adv.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Hello there, kiddie!" said a voice, and lo and behold, there appeared on a pussy willow branch the Fairy Queen herself.

"Hello," called the Twins happily. "we didn't know you were here."

"Oh, I'm everywhere," laughed the dear little lady. "I've just been down to the dingy dell to watch my fairy gardeners put in some more violet plants for spring. On my way home I passed an old stump, and stopping a minute I heard the faintest sounds. I have to laugh when I think of it."

"What were they?" cried Nick eagerly.

"Do you really want to know?" cried the Fairy Queen teasingly. "My, my! What a curious little boy! But there! I'm only teasing. That's why I'm here, my dears."

"When I heard all of those funny sounds I said to myself, 'I'll have to send Nancy and Nick to this place down the old stump, for they will have lots of fun.' So I came to leave the magic green shoes with you again and start you off on a new adventure. Do you want to go?"

"Oh, yes, yes, yes!" cried the Twins together. "What is the funny place called? May we go right away?"

"Yes, if you like," answered the queen, flying down to the ground and slipping the magic shoes on their feet. "But I'll tell you a little about it first. The place is called the Land of the Doofinies."

"Doofinies?" exclaimed the Twins. "What are they?"

"Just odds and ends," said the queen. "Things people make and forget about. After they grow they wonder whatever became of them and that they had when they were children. They don't know that it is a special place where these things go. They just slip off when nobody is looking. But the place is the same, and the way to it is to go down the old hollow stump beside the button-wood tree."

"Odds and ends?" puzzled Nancy. "What are they?"

The Fairy Queen laughed. "They are all odds, the pieces of Doofinies Land are, and sometimes are ends. Mister Fuzz Wuzz, a pipe-cleaner man, runs the place and his subjects are the clothes-doll, and the upkin rabbit and wooden soldier, and the penny horse, and the peanut boy, and a gingerbread man, and the pin-cushion lady, and the stocking cat, and little tin mouse and a rubber boy, and a lot more. Besides there's a Teddy-bear and Radio Rex and the wooden clown, and animals from Humpty Dumpty Circus."

"Sounds good to me," said Nick, turning a somersault. "Let's go right away, Nancy. May we?"

"Yes, run right along," nodded the Fairy Queen. "Tell Mister Fuzz Wuzz that I sent you. Goodbye! Away went the Twins."

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

By Uncle RAY

Chapter 141
Statues and Sculptures

There were many places in Greece where marble could be obtained, and the marble was some of the finest men have ever known. It was of several colors and many shades. Statues were cut from this marble by Greek sculptors.

Unhappily, most of their statues have either been crushed to pieces during the ages or else have been broken so that we can see only the bodies or heads.

Enough has remained, however, for us to know that the art of the Greeks has never been excelled, and perhaps never equaled.

An amusing story is told about one of the broken Greek statues. It is called the Statue of Victory. A man who did not know much about sculpture gazed at this statue and noticed that the arms were broken, and the head was off.

"Why," he exclaimed, "if that is Victory, I'd like to look at Defeat!"

Some of the broken statues have been pieced together and missing parts put in by artists of the present day. That is called "restoring." In other cases, statues have been left as found, but pictures have been painted of them as they probably looked when Greece was at the height of her glory.

Another noted statue is of a "wounded Amazon." It was carved by a Greek artist. The Greek was fond of telling about a race of people in Asia Minor. These people were called Amazons. Very little was known about the men of that race, but women were supposed to be tall and strong. They went out and fought soldiers.

M'ADOO WINS GEORGIA VOTE

Manager Says Victory Is Answer to Tea Potters

ATLANTA, Ga., March 20.—William G. McAdoo won a sweeping victory in the Georgia democratic presidential primary yesterday, practically complete returns today showed.

McAdoo carried 117 counties and his only opponent, Senator Oscar Underwood of Alabama, won in 32 counties.

On the face of these returns McAdoo will control 312 delegates to the state democratic convention which nominates delegates to the national convention in New York and Philadelphia, and by virtue of the delegates that went to McAdoo have large majorities in the popular vote, some running as high as five to one.

Miller Bell, campaign manager for McAdoo, in a statement declared that the victory was the nation's answer to the "tea potters" who had been making a "sweep of the South" for McAdoo.

9 WED DAUGHTERS CLAIMED AS RECORD

SANTA ROSA, March 20.—William J. Edgeworth, Sebastopol, and Santa Rosa editor, claims a record of a state record. He and his wife are the proud parents of a dozen children, nine of whom are daughters.

Edgeworth stated that he thought it was a fine record to be the father of nine daughters, and to have all of them happily married.

Sun spots have been an interesting object of study for a century.

Black suede fancy cut-out slipper with baby Spanish heel.

Two-strap cut-out slipper of patent leather with flat heel.

Black satin cut-out cross strapped slipper with baby Spanish heel.

Tailored pump contrastingly trimmed, gray, beige and patent leather.

All sizes and widths in some styles.

Cut-out strap pump comes in black suede, black satin and patent leather.

Cross strap dress slipper of patent leather or black satin, Spanish heel.

Comfortable walking cut-out sandal of black satin, Spanish heel.

Smart buckled colonial pump of beige or gray, contrastingly trimmed.

Expert fitters to serve you.

The "how" and the "why" of the reason is too long to tell here. The facts of chief interest to you are that the styles are new as spring itself (as the illustrations show) that the qualities have met Deutser's exacting standards and that the price is low—it would be unwarrantedly low had the shoes been marked at their regular selling prices.
